WE GON’ BE ALRIGHT!

Claude Chastagner
Everything in the culture is fragmented, and therefore it’s very hard for anything in the culture to be the big voice in the way that songs that came out during the Civil Rights Movement could be in the early ’60s.

Painkillers only put me in the twilight
Boys and girls, I think I gone crazy
Drown inside my vices all day
I remembered you was conflicted
Misusing your influence, sometimes I did the same
Abusing my power full of resentment
Resentment that turned into a deep depression
Four hundred years ago, as slaves, we prayed and sung joyful songs to keep our heads level-headed with what was going on. Four hundred years later, we still need that music to heal.
